“ On a Sunday visit to Rosedale, there was Uncle James trying to read the papers while I was chatting away. He was listening to me.....then at the end of his patience, he quietly, without a word, handed me a section so I would stop talking! I still laugh at that memory. Joan Buckholtz

“ He would drive into Brooklyn and pick me up when he and Nanny we going to the beach. He would also swing by and pickup Steven and Richard as well. He would then rather than pay the 25 cent toll on the bridge drive all the way back to Rosedale to take the back way to the Rockaway's. James Del Antonio

“ The best memory that I have is when I was over a friend's house visiting and it was winter time with snow on the ground. When I went to start my car it was dead. I called Uncle James and gave him the address and he came and jump started my battery. He never said no.

“ I remember the trips to Far Rockaway beach. We all loved the beach and he was always willing to drive us. I also remember when we lived in East New York and he would take us sledding at Hyland park. We all went down the hill piled on one sled.

“ There are a lot of good memories with Uncle James, all the cousins got together on Sundays and spent time with UJ and Nanny,eating pasta and always drinking root bear. I used to go on dog walks,when he got home from work. We spent time together tuning up his Ford Fairlane car,and I even got to drive his car, with his help of course!
